Prior to joining Rothschild, she earned a BSc in Management at the London School of Economics.

Bon-Jay Tseng joined Campbell Lutyens from Peter J. Salomon in New York where he advised on transactions involving private equity sponsors and infrastructure assets. Ana Dicu joined Campbell Lutyens having spent over seven years focusing on M&A advisory, advising on public and private transactions at Canaccord Genuity and previously at Rothschild. She holds a Master of Science in International Management from Bocconi University in Milan.

"Over the past twelve months Campbell Lutyens has completed its highest volume of secondary transactions ever and we remain optimistic about further growth in the coming years." said Andrew Sealey, CEO of Campbell Lutyens. "These three hires further consolidate our position as the leading secondaries adviser in Europe & Middle-East as well as representing another step in the development of our US secondary practice which is expected to grow further in 2017. The backgrounds and experience of these new team members reflects the increasing complexity we are seeing in the market as GP-led secondary transactions becoming a larger part of our activity."
